FREE EQUINE NUTRITION SEMINAR OPEN TO PUBLIC

Black Creek, BC— Black Creek Farm & Feed is hosting a free community seminar, “Nutrition & Supplements for Horses,” on June 6, 7pm, for horse owners in the Comox Valley and Campbell River.

Shelagh Niblock, nutritionist from the feed supplier, HiPro (formerly Viterra), will provide information about the nutritional requirements for horses during their various life stages; she will also discuss various supplements.

Steve Nixon, owner of Black Creek Farm and Feed, will also be available to answer questions about barn/run-in construction, bedding, and supplies. The store will be open after the workshop, with BCFF offering specials on the HiPro’s ProForm horse feed and other horse-owner products.

There is no fee to attend, but seating is limited. To reserve your seat, phone 250-337-8922 by June 5.

Black Creek Farm & Feed Supply, an award-winning IRLY/TimBr-Mart building supply center, is a privately owned, full-service farm-and-feed store which carries a large supply of horse supplies and the ProForm line of animal feeds, which allow owners to choose the right feed for the life-stage and activity level of their horses and domestic pets.
